Letter from the School's Governing Body:

Dear Parents and Guardians,

At the start of a new school year, and on behalf of the Governing Body, I would like to welcome you back to school and especially welcome those of you who are new to Ysgol Bryn-y-Môr.

We are extremely grateful to you as parents and guardians for your continued support for the school and hope that we can look forward to another year of successful collaboration with all members of the school community. Maintaining a good relationship between the school and yourselves as parents and guardians is crucial in order to ensure another happy and productive year.

With this in mind, I would like to encourage you to use social media in an appropriate manner. Social media can be a great way to keep in touch and share updates and information about the school and various classes, but there is a minority who choose to use it in a negative way. This leads to stirring up concern and spreading rumours among parents and such discussions affect the whole school community, intentionally or not. We should be setting the best possible example for our children, especially as they will grow up in this age where social media is such a powerful and influential tool. Discussing issues with others within earshot of our children can also have a detrimental effect on them and their relationship with, and their attitude towards, the school staff. If unfounded, it can severely affect reputations and could potentially lead to serious allegations or libel issues.

We are very fortunate at Ysgol Bryn-y-Môr to have members of staff, at every level, who bring experience, various expertise and enthusiasm for teaching to our school. Above all, they are passionate about giving the children the best possible start. You are expected to treat all staff with respect, and reminded to contact the school in the appropriate way, and within school hours, if you wish to discuss any issues.

Yours sincerely,

Saran Thomas
